AFVETS NETWORK

Often referred to as an "Elder in the Village", Major Cecil Davis is a retired U.S. Air Force Radar Navigator/Bombardier (RN/B) with a long history of military service. After being commissioned in 1970, he trained for two years and then served on a B-52 bomber during the Vietnam war. When the war ended, he was selected for a prestigious assignment at the U.S. Air Force headquarters and the organization of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (OJCS) at the Pentagon.

Major Davis is known for never backing down from a good fight, therefore he is on a new mission to fight for both active and retired military personnel that are owed financial benefits and compensation. Major Davis is putting together a group of retired veterans and teaming up with other Vets.
